

It's wrong that Sinclair Broadcasting forces their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary (Stolen Honor) days before the election. This is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, but when large companies control the airwaves we get more of what's good for them and less of what is good for our democracy. It's important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter instead of propaganda.

Sinclair's actions show that we need to strengthen media ownership rules. Thank you.
